17 COMES NOW, the United States of America by and through its attorneys, DANIEL G.
18 BOGDEN, United States Attorney, and ADAM FLAKE, Assistant United States Attorney, and
19 respectfully requests this court enter an order of waiver of the attorney-client privilege in this case,
20 ordering Nelson's former counsel Karen Winkler to provide the Government with the information
21 requested in this motion, and staying the Government's deadline to respond to Defendant's 28 U.S.C.
22 § 2255 motion until 30 days after Winkler provides the requested information.

23 This order is sought for the following reasons:

24 1. Defendant has filed a 28 U.S.C. § 2255 motion to vacate, set aside or correct sentence by 25 a person in federal custody, alleging ineffective assistance of counsel.

26 . . .

2. Information from Defendant's former counsel, Karen C. Winkler, is necessary in order to respond to Defendant's allegations.

3. The Government requests this Court's order that the attorney-client privilege is waived as to all contentions raised in Defendant's 18 U.S.C. § 2255 Motion, that all material and information related thereto be divulged to the Government, and that attorney Karen C. Winkler, provide an affidavit containing the same forthwith.

4. The voluntary disclosure by a defendant of privileged attorney communications "constitutes waiver of the privilege as to all other such communications on the same subject." Weil v. Investment/Indicators, Research & Management, 647 F.2d 18, 24 (9th Cir. 1981). See also, United States v. Zolin, 809 F.2d 1411, 1415-16 (9th Cir. 1987); Clady v. County of Los Angeles, 770 F.2d, 1421, 1433 (9th Cir. 1985).

Even when a party does not explicitly disclose the content of an attorney-client communication, he may waive the privilege implicitly. A person cannot always claim that he relied on counsel, while protecting what was said between them from disclosure. As we have said: "The privilege which protects attorney-client communications may not be used both as a sword and a shield. Where a party raises a claim which in fairness requires disclosure of the protected communication, the privilege may be implicitly waived." (Citations omitted.)

United States v. Ortland, 109 F.3d 539, 543 (9th Cir. 1997).

WHEREFORE, based on the foregoing, it is respectfully requested that this Court enter an order that the attorney-client privilege in this case as to Defendant Kathy Nelson is waived with respect to the issues put at issue in her 28 U.S.C. § 2255 motion, that Karen Winkler provides the Government with all materials and information related to the issues in Defendant's 28 U.S.C. § 2255

1 motion, and that the Government's deadline to respond to Defendant's motion be reset to a date 30
2 days after Winkler provides the Government with the requested information.
